By DEREK RAYNE

Never deny that the Irish lack persuasive charm. Michael Gould must have kissed the Blarney too. I am home only one day from Reno, Tahoe and "Escapation" and Mike talks me into working for him--at best I can only hope for a free subscription to the SPECTATOR--only young, blonde employees rate a trip to the Islands. Maybe it was the passports and their plane tickets to New York that he waved under my nose that had me confused--"Shure, and I'd be happy to write it for you while you're away Mike," I says.

Judging a Dog Show is one thing, but judging a Dog Show in Reno is like driving across Los Angeles with a hangover... Maybe you are never the same again! Impressions of acres and acres of slot machines and days that have no nights and of characters that Carmel has yet to duplicate. There's no escaping Carmelites, of course...briefly seen in Reno's Riverside Hotel Carmel's Helen Heavey looking so tweedy there...and Howard Benedict who looked so western when he corralled us in the bar at Tahoe. Whether it's the Wagon Wheel at State Line or the Wagon Wheel at Waikiki you can find him with his movie camera. Harold has sold a lot of film footage to tourists agencies in both places, but he's still nostalgic about Carmel. Blase Reno is getting excited about the Sports Car Races to be held this October 21, a sport that had its western revival here at Pebble Beach. M.G.'s, Jaguars, Simcas and Allards are already growling down Virginia Road. Like a lot of other fresh air fiends we take our exercise in an M.G. Having roasted in the Arizona desert and frozen with it on top of Reno's Mt. Rose we know that M.G. stands for "Made Good" (N.B. Spectator NOT Mike Gould).

This last weekend another M.G. invaded Carmel's quiet. An Illinois plated blue job owned by Richard J. "Rovin" Ralston here visiting his nephew John Hall. Ralston, one time explorer with Byrd and son of the Palace Hotel builder, is Reno bound...Carmel's Ivar Sivertsens M.G. will be there too!

Briefly noted around the town--if you get an extra olive in your martini at the Hearthstone this week it will be a boy for Al Moraz...I got a double martini the other night by mistake--hope it doesn't mean twins!

Knew I had stayed too long in Reno when two examiners from Civil Service called at the store this week--thought they were from the F.B.I. at least...firm-jawed and tight-mouthed they stood out like a Sunny Sunday in Carmel. Began to wonder if I had sent in my Income Tax or voted for Earl Browder by mistake. Relieved to find they were interrogating business people re applicants for Postmaster--assured them that I buy all my stamps in Monterey.

In passing, plaudits to Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions of Carmel who continue to show effective help to the out-door program of Carmel schools.

Home late tonight from election of Del Monte Kennel Club... Valleyite Elizabeth Boyer remaining as President, Vice-President Joel Craige, wife of the popular veterinarian, and myself the Secretary. Tried to explain to our Cocker and Wire why we were so late getting home, but they were not impressed and still insisted on carrying out Fire Prevention Week by inspecting every Pine Tree on our neighborhood block.

RESERVE OFFICERS BULLETIN CAMPAIGN OPENED HERE

This week saw the opening of the Reserve Officers Association Convention Committee Monthly Bulletin campaign for attendance with a Colton Hall Ceremony of approval by the Peninsula's three mayors and the Chamber of Commerce.

Seated at the California Constitution signing table in Colton Hall, Col. C. A. De Camp, Director of Publicity, received the congratulations of Mayors Searle, Knight and Nelson, and those of the Chamber of Commerce by President Harper on the Convention Committee's first Bulletin.

The Bulletin, of which there will be seven issued prior to the Convention in April is on fine buff stock having a colored descriptive map of the Peninsula on its reverse.

STAMP CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will meet in the cafeteria at Sunset School at 8 p.m. next Monday, Oct. 15. General E. S. Adams will speak on the topic "Sources for Stamp Collecting." General Adams has been collecting for 55 years and has in his private collection over 60,000 stamps. He specializes in Civil War Revenues.

INDIAN UN DELEGATE MINOO MASANI TO SPEAK HERE OCT. 23

President Truman has officially proclaimed October 24 as United Nations Day. In recognition of this sixth anniversary of the United Nations Charter, a landmark in the history of the human race, several civic and educational organizations on the Peninsula are bringing to the area Mr. Minoo Masani, member of the Indian parliament, to speak at Sunset Auditorium on the evening of October 23. Mr. Masani's career has included a wide variety of interests and achievements.

Mr. Masani is a graduate in law from the University of London. Although he is only 45, he has been mayor of Bombay, member of the Indian legislative assembly, Member of the Constituent Assembly, Ambassador to Brazil, Representative of the City of Bombay in the Federal Legislature in New Delhi, and chairman of the organizing committee of the Indian Congress for Cultural Freedom.

Mr. Masani has been associated with the Tata Industries since 1941. Tata Industries controls the largest single aggregation of Indian Indian Industry, embracing iron and steel locomotives, engineering, machine tools, textiles, electric power, chemicals, radios, airlines and hotels. At present he is Tata's Director of Industrial and Public Relations. His book, "Our India," is the largest circulated book on India in modern times. It has been reprinted in America by the Oxford University Press. In addition Mr. Masani is now Chairman of the United Nations Subcommission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities.

He is being brought to Carmel by the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula, the World Affairs Council, the American Association of University Women, the Adult evening school of Carmel, and is endorsed by the Kiwanis Club of Monterey, and the Mental Health Association.

His subject Oct. 23 at the Sunset Auditorium will be "India, Its Place in Asia and the World." Admission is free for this event which begins at 8 p.m.

CARMEL POSTMASTER APPLICANTS GIVEN ORAL EXAMINATION

Civil Service examiners Austin and Frasse from San Francisco are in Carmel this week interviewing the six applicants for the Carmel postmastership as well as business and professional people who know the applicants.

They explained that education will count for 20 percent and experience for 80 percent in this oral examination for the post which pays approximately $4,800 a year. They will eventually file a report to the Civil Service Commission in Washington.

Although action by the Civil Service Commission, based on the examiners' report, probably is several months distant, it will have the effect of narrowing the field to not more than three applicants. By law that is the maximum number that can be certified by the Commission. It is possible, although unlikely, that only two, one or none will be so certified.

Procedure thereafter, the examiners pointed out this week, calls for appointment by the President and confirmation by the Senate of the person from among those eligible. This is the course followed for all first class post offices.

Applicants include Acting Postmaster Alfred Mollner, Fred Mylar, Fred Strong, William Woolsey, Maurice Stoney, and Frank Flynn.

EIGHT to the BAR

By ROSS WORSLEY

If the opera fan finds the current San Francisco opera season disappointing, he may find surcease in his own salon with Cetra's ravishing new releases. Listen to Leoncavallo's I Pagliacci with Carla Gavazzi, Carlo Bergonzi and Carlo Tagliabue (the three great "C's") complete on two long playing records. Here is a virile and stunning performance expertly engineered; the album includes libretto with English translation.

To quote a friend who recently heard the great Maria Caniglia in a performance of the Masked Ball in Rome, "this prima donna remains absolutely undaunted in her high notes." Caniglia has recorded a complete Tosca, Aida, Andre Chenier, Masked Ball, the Verdi Requiem, Forza del Destino and now Giordano's Fedora, a theatrically exciting and musically rich score.

Maria Caniglia has long been considered Italy's greatest dramatic soprano and in the role of the Princess Fedora Romazoff she is very much at home. The love scene with the eminent tenor Giacinto Prandelli is magnificent. This performance will be cherished by all opera lovers; we may not hear from this miraculous artist again on recordings.

It is difficult to choose between the La Traviatas issued by Urania and Victor. The latter set is complete. Having heard Licia Abanese's moving delineation of the role of Violetta at the Metropolitan opera the same year of this recording, I would be inclined to choose the complete performance. This is Madame Albanese's favorite role and the score which fits the libretto like a glove is glorious from beginning to end. Toscanini is the conductor.

There is much to say for Urania's abridged recording, even though we miss the lovely preludes and the letter scene. Certainly three no greater artists have been assembled to sing this music: Maria Cebotari, Helge Roswaenge, and Heinrich Schlusnus. One doesn't mind the German libretto, in fact, this 12-inch long-playing record is a gem, completely enchanting. There are those who will want to own both the Victor and Urania performances - - a worthy investment.

Gas and electricity are cheap in California!

Outdoor living is one of San Mateo's greatest charms.

P.G. and E. home rates are far below U.S. average!

The cost of living has nearly doubled since 1940, but P.G. and E. domestic rates are actually lower than 11 years ago! Nothing else you buy costs so little—does so much. Let P.G. and E.'s bargain gas and electricity do more of your work, bring you more of life's comforts.

Take SAN MATEO for example:
Typical residential gas and electric bill
In San Mateo . . . $8.40
In all U.S. cities of similar size* . . $18.37
*Average for all 15 U.S. cities outside California between 40,000 and 42,000 population. Based on a typical use of 100 KWH and 100 therms of gas per month.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Some-where a Road is Call-ing

If the purr of a great-powered engine is music to your ears –

If command of two tons and more of nimble-footed and beautifully balanced automobile can step up your pulse beat–

You are just the man for whom a ROADMASTER was engineered.

Whatever it takes to give you a sense of complete and carefree freedom behind its wheel, you'll find in this proud master of the highways.

Added to the breadth and length that any fine car can give you are four soft-action coil springs to cushion the wheels, and a torque-tube to banish rear-wheel wander.

Added to its high-compression, valve-in-head engine are eight exclusive Fireball combustion chambers that get extra power from each whirling charge of fuel.

Added to the convenience of clutch-free driving is the torque-converter principle of Dynaflow Drive – that feeds a steady flow of power without lag or falter ever.

Added to the light responsiveness of its steering wheel is a Buick-engineered "front-end geometry" that gives this phenomenal performer a sense of direction straight and true.

But no roll call of engineering accomplishments can tell you the feel of a ROADMASTER out on the road.

That's something that only firsthand acquaintance can bring. Not just a trip around the block – but enough time and enough miles to let you discover what a joyous companion this great car can be.

That's something that is easily arranged. If you're truly interested, a phone call will bring a ROADMASTER to your door.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

COMMUNITY CHEST PROGRESS REPORTED

On Wednesday, tenth day of the current Community Chest campaign on the Peninsula, Albert Lester, 1951 Drive Director, announced that $10,815 of the $75,055 goal, had been collected, with 728 cards--representing that many contributing individuals or businesses who have contributed--turned in.

Mrs. Malcolm Woods was the first Precinct Captain in Carmel to complete her territory and turn in cash and pledges collected by her workers to Mrs. John Walsh at Carmel Chest Headquarters.

Mrs. Edmond Sullivan, Residential Area Chairman, says Mrs. Woods and her workers went well over last year's total for the same Precinct.

"It looks like we're on our way," said Lester when interviewed at Chest Headquarters, "Responding to our plea for larger contributions this year--due to increased operation costs for most of our 16 agencies, and the addition of Aid to Korea--people, on the whole, are showing great generosity. If they continue in this manner, and if everyone contributes something, we should clean up the drive in another two weeks."

Rollo Payne, Carmel Business Area Chairman, reports satisfactory progress.

The tea will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Charles H. Burrill, Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray, and Mrs. David Askew.

WHO IS IT?

(POLAROID One-Minute Photograph)

This is one of a series of photographs of residents you should know. All "Who Is It?" personalities are well-known residents of the Monterey Peninsula. For this week's answer turn to page 10.

Mrs. Harry Staver was elected president of Peninsula Pets, Inc., at a recent business meeting.

Other new officers include: vice-president, Col. Chas. Richardson, Jr.; 2nd vice president, G. Sydney Taylor; 3rd vice-president, Pola Orren; secretary, Letitia E. Creede; treasurer, Col. D. B. The three year old charitable non-profit organization, is completely dependent on donations and memberships and is staffed entirely by volunteer workers. "It exists through the volunteer service of individuals and the generosity of the public."

The Peninsula Pet Thrift Shop located at 7th and Lincoln Streets, Carmel, across from the Church of the Wayfarer, is the headquarters for Peninsula Pets, and plays an important part in the raising of funds for the organization. All merchandise in the Thrift Shop is donated and the proceeds go toward the welfare of animals. Donations of merchandise and rummage are much desired and more volunteer workers are needed.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

If you are a Peninsula veteran with a claim against Uncle Sam, you probably scored 100% on this week's "Who Is It?". If you are such a veteran and didn't know the gentleman in the picture it's probably time you found out something about him.

He is Claude S. Estill whose communiques of veterans' advice appear frequently in The SPECTATOR. He is the Monterey County Veterans Service Officer and what he doesn't know about a veteran's particular problem he will find out--free of charge.

Claude is a funny guy that way. Whereas today the general tendency seems to be to avoid work, get short hours with more pay, Claude is always looking for more work. In fact his gripes are heard mainly when veterans fail to thrust their burdens on his shoulders. Disability compensation, GI insurance, widows' benefits--any and all problems between the vet, his family and the government -- are his meat.

Personally he is a very friendly chap with no air of of bureaucracy about him. He estimates he handles about 75% of the veterans with claims living on the Peninsula; the other 25% he hopes to gather into his files as he goes along. He points out that whether or not the veteran has any immediate difficulties, he should register at the office--located in the same building as the California Highway Patrol offices on Calle Principal in Monterey. This won't take but a minute, involves no red tape.

Of course Claude himself is a vet and thus doubly interested in their welfare. An OCS instructor in World War II, he spent some time following his discharge with the State Department of Veterans Affairs as property appriaser, leaving this for his present position in 1947. Prior to his military service he had lived 22 years on the Monterey Peninsula, employed for many years by the Monterey Schools System.

What kind of case does he enjoy handling most? "The hard cases," he says. By this he means those which often take researching and no little detective work like tracing lost birth and marriage records upon which claims may depend. One example is a woman, a widow, who lost the annulment papers of her husband's former marriage. In order that his previous marriage be cleared so she could be judged his legal wife for widows' benefits, Estill contacted 82 county seats, big and small, in the Shenandoah Valley tracing the missing documents--and luckily won for the woman her rights by finally turning up the necessary records.

His chief gripes are against retired army men with disability pensions due them who do not file claim with the Veterans Administration. Filing such a claim, he points out, does not obligate the person to accept compensation if he is financially well fixed and doesn't wish to. However failing to do so puts his widow in the difficult position of trying to establish a claim in the event of his death, if she should need this assistance.

Also irking him greatly are veterans, both men and women, who fail to see that their marital papers are in order at all times. This causes no end of complications as in the previous case cited.

Does he think the average veteran deserves the pension or compensation he gets? "Yes," he says, "because most vets don't get a penny they're not entitled to. Don't worry, the administration watches all claims closely."

Are most veterans honest in their claims? "Yes," he says again emphatically, "about 99½%. Of course you occasionally run into a bad apple. But they usually get weeded out in the long run."

If you are a vet of Spanish American, Indian, World War I, or the last war--or of the present "police action"--go to see Claude Estill now, and save you and your family lots of trouble later.

The excursion, new to the Peninsula, includes dinner at "the Bob's," transportation from Monterey, Pacific Grove or Carmel, and reserved seats for "Deguillo" for $5 per person. (Arthur McEwen photo.)

Child Should Be Encouraged To Return to Sunday School

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Several weeks ago many children on vacation or at camp returned home and are now in school. Some of them will return to Sunday school by and by. But as a measure of its importance to them, many parents will be satisfied if these children begin Sunday school after a few weeks more.

So, also, many of the far larger group of children who have been home all summer, but who, in imitation of those who went on vacation, didn't go to Sunday school during the summer, will drift slowly back. Anyway, it's just Sunday school! Most parents would do better if they had their children return to Sunday school when day schools open.

FAMILY GOES TOGETHER

It may be easy to send children from five to ten to Sunday school, but unless both parents go with their children, they hardly can expect these children to continue going regularly for many more years. Wonderful the family with children over three or four who every Sunday all go together to Sunday school or who go together only to church, where there is no Sunday school.

Families who begin going to Sunday school and church when the first child is pretty young, and continue doing so as the children grow in number and age, may not find it very difficult to keep up this practice for years. Of course, unless the family is strongly knit as a compznionable unit, and there is a good youth program, the child on reaching adolescence may grow to loathe to attend Sunday school with the family or alone. He feels grown up. He might be attracted to attend Sunday school or church elsewhere with some of his pals, especially if there were a skillful teacher of their group.

SYMBOL OF UNITY

It is distressing to see so few youths at Sunday school or church. We parents should feel glad and highly honored when our son or daughter willingly goes to church with us. It is a good symbol of family unity and their regard for us.

A sad commentary it is on the value parents place on religious education of their children, especially under twelve or thirteen, when these children attend Sunday school very irregularly and tardily. Imagine a day school with as poor attendance and as much lateness! Yet the more regularly and promptly the young child attends Sunday school, the more satisfaction he gains.

MORAL VALUES

Something more is involved. When your child often arrives at Sunday school late, he interrupts his class or the assembly group. How serious this interruption if he should enter during a worship period. If we parents wish our children to gain greatest moral and spiritual values from Sunday school, we will see that they arrive on time and attend regularly.

And when the staff invites us parents to a meeting to discuss the program and our part in it, let us go. Any good school has good backing by the parents.

Also, let us at home encourage our children to prepare their lessons for Sunday school and study their lessons with them, making it a happy family practice.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Carmel Woman's Club card section held its opening meeting last Monday. In the absence of Mrs. W. C. Peterson, chairman, Mrs. D. McK. Ashton's foursome acted as hostesses, Mrs. C. C. Imelman, Dr. Zoe Johnston, and Mrs. N. H. Traverso. Tea was poured by Miss Bessie French and Mrs. R. H. Merritt.

The meeting next Monday will be in charge of the book section. Mrs. E. M. Seifert, chairman, has announced that Mrs. H. S. Upjohn will review informally two books, "For Readers Only" by J. Plenn and "Forty Years in a Book Shop" by Spencer.

Mrs. Barbara Murphy wishes anyone who desires to have rummage picked up to telephone her after 7 p.m. at 7-3846. The Annual Rummage Sale will be held on October 29.

JOSEPHINE BAKER MOVIE AT HILL THEATRE

Josephine Baker's only movie, an all-sepia work entitled "The Flame of Paris," will share the Hill Theatre screen next Tuesday through Thursday with Georges Rouquier's famous pastoral film "Farrebique"--a nice contrast of Art and Nature. Both in French, with English titles.

Playing at the Hill tonight through Monday are two British pictures--one, an elaborate musical starring Ann Todd and Richard Greene; the other, an adventure of the Spanish Civil War called "The Man from Morocco." Anton Walbrook in the title role.

GOLDIE GARDENER'S SPECIAL M. G. ON DISPLAY

Campbell will be host this week to the famous Goldie Gardner Special M.G., holder of many world speed records and the first light car in the world to exceed 200 mph.

The special M.G. will be on display at Lacey's British Motor Car Co. through Tuesday. A sound motion picture of last month's record run will be shown free of charge along with several thrilling films on Sports Cars and road racing.

The special M.G. owned and driven by Lt.-Col. Goldie Gardner last month added 16 national and international Class F. (up to 1500 cc) speed records to its already formidable list of accomplishments, by maintaining a speed of 139 mph for one hour.

AVOID IGNITION SHORTS

Much inconvenience could be avoided during the approaching rainy season if motorists motorists would have all ignition wiring checked now and treated with a coating of moisture repellent, suggests the California State Automobile Association. There are several good products for this purpose on the market and most repair shops keep a supply on hand.

It costs about 20% more to build fences, arbors, trellises, etc. of lumber pressure-treated with copper-arsenate salts, but the treated wood will last three to five times as long.

EILEEN FARRELL TO SING OCT. 23 IN PACIFIC GROVE

"One of the two greatest dramatic sopranos of our time," Eileen Farrell, will be presented by the Monterey Peninsula Community Concert Association Tuesday, Oct. 23, in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium. The quotes are from the New York Herald Tribune, after her first New York recital in October 1950, in Carnegie Hall.

Along with her radio appearances, Eileen Farrell has sung with many city orchestras. New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Rochester, Baltimore, Milwaukee, Nashville and so on. In Chicago's Grant Park she "brought one of the summer's largest crowds, some 65,000, to hear a half-dozen arias."

She began her extraordinary career in 1942 with an impersonation of Rosa Ponselle on a March of Time program over the NBC network. This was followed by a routine audition for Columbia Broadcasting System which proved so sensational that she was immediately signed for a series of programs, Songs of the Centuries. Soon she had her own program that for five years thrilled millions of listeners, not only in the United States and Canada, but by short wave, those in Europe, South America and the Far East.

From the air to the concert stage she went and her enthusiastic reception was universal.

Along with her concert tour in the 1951-52 season, she will sing with the Cincinnati, Baltimore and other symphonies. She will also appear with the Los Angeles Philharmonic in two performances of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis."

The concert here will be for members only and no single admissions will be sold. The doors open at 7:30 and the curtain goes up at 8:15 p.m.

MONTEREY USO MANAGEMENT BOARD REELECTS COCHRANE

Edward W. Cochrane of Carmel has been reelected chairman of the board of management of the Monterey USO.

Other officers chosen are: vice-chairman, Glenn Goodwill of Monterey; treasurer, Admiral R. A. Spruance of Monterey Peninsula Country Club, and secretary, Mrs. Charles Bentley of Seaside.

The nominating committee consisted of Mrs. Roger Fitch, Mrs. J. H. Bastedo, Harold McLean and Kenneth Ray.

Announcement was received from the National office of the USO that the National Catholic Community Service, one of the three organizations handling USO installations in the United States, will send a professional woman program director to join the professional staff of the Monterey USO by Nov. 1. The other two professional workers here are Director Frank Adams and Assistant Director Harold Brewer, both from the Armed Services YMCA, which organization operates the local unit.

The board decided not to give another hospitality ball this year but to confine its efforts to the annual St. Patrick's Day carnival, which was a big success the past two years.

Director Adams announced that the television set recently installed at the USO is drawing crowds every evening and is a valuable addition to the entertainment features provided for service men.

A committee consisting of Gen. Wm. Gruber, Kenneth Ray, Mrs. Alice Fuhrman, and Mrs. Edward Cochrane was appointed to assist Harold Brower in obtaining entertainers for Saturday and Sunday night programs.
